Please come prepared to discuss your images and provide feedback on the images submitted. The presentation and discussion topic is “Creating a Portfolio” by Mike Whiteley.

The Colorado Environmental Film Festival (CEFF) is a celebration of the power of film to inspire, educate, and motivate audiences. CEFF presents thought-provoking films and dialogue that raise awareness of a wide variety of interconnected ecological, social, and economic themes. The Festival provides an experience for the audience that goes beyond passive film viewing: CEFF inspires audiences into awareness and action.

We hope that the audiences will leave feeling that they can be a part of the solution to environmental problems. With a growing public awareness for the environment, the Festival aims to increase this groundswell through inspiring and educational films which hopefully will motivate people to go out and make a difference in their community and around the world. We involve environmental organizations through an Expo Hall, where groups can share opportunities to get involved.

While we will feature national and international films, we also hope to highlight the works of local filmmakers and foster an interest in environmental film making through mentoring and a filmmaking forum. An important component is the opportunity for open discussion related to the films, either with filmmakers or with experts on the film's topic.
Winter Snowshoe Outing and Potluck
Saturday, January 26, 2013, The Wolf Moon

The Photography Section snowshoe and potluck outing was a great success. Eleven members were greeted by fairly mild weather at the trailhead and enjoyed a casual snowshoe up Mayflower Gulch. When we arrived at the remnants of the Boston Mine site we had some lunch, and then explored the buildings and enjoyed some time dedicated to photography. We returned down the valley to Nancy’s home. En route some of us visited the Blue River. After a group photograph taken by Frank Burzynski, we were ready for the tasty feast the participants had assembled, which included chili, corn bread, fruit, salads, cookies and pumpkin pie. Special thanks to Nancy for her fine hospitality and the main course for our meal! A good time was had by all. A sampling of images from the day can be seen at the following locations:
