The October meeting will be based on the review of photos. The intent is to submit two photos each. One photo should be selected for critique. The second, a favorite photo, (with the word “fav” in the file name) should be selected so that the photographer can state at least some of the following:

✴ Why did you take the photo?
✴ What does it mean or say to you?
✴ What aspects are particularly pleasing?
✴ How did you compose the photo?

The group will respond to the statements as follows:
✴ Does the image mean or say the same thing to the reviewer?
✴ Are the cited aspects well executed and pleasing?
✴ Does the composition help achieve the first two points?

Photos may include:
✴ Macros of natural subjects
✴ Landscapes
✴ Any natural subjects
✴ Travel photos

Camping and Photography at Arches National Park this October

Frank will lead a camping and photography excursion to Arches National Park in Utah, Oct. 20-23, with drive back to Denver on the 23rd. Camp with us at the campground in the park or stay in Moab and drive into the park for photography hikes if you prefer a hotel to camping.
2015 Year of the Mountaineer

Year of the Mountaineer emphasizes the role of mountaineering in the Colorado Mountain Club’s past, present, and future. Created by passionate CMC members, the 2015 Year of the Mountaineer statewide initiative will host a number of events designed to motivate and engage mountaineers from every skill level.

From a broad series of guided hikes in celebration of Rocky Mountain National Park’s centennial year to global adventures of the World Summit Series, Year of the Mountaineer will be sure to inspire the mountaineer in all of us. Set to begin in the fall of 2014, the CMC looks forward to offering Club members and the Colorado public a range of events that celebrate CMC’s century-old passion for the mountains.

Rocky Mountain National Park Centennial
Discover the Park...Go Beyond the Asphalt

Join in the celebration! Officially kicking off in September 2014, CMC is celebrating the RMNP Centennial by offering member-led climbs of 100 of the 125 named peaks, hike packages totaling 100 miles in the Park, and Colorado Native Plant Master wildflower hikes in the summer of 2015. CMC members played a significant role in 1915 in the designation of RMNP as a national park. And now, because of CMC’s unique involvement 100 years ago, we are ready to celebrate the RMNP’s Centennial in CMC style.

World Summits Series
Attain your mountaineering goals

Embrace high altitude mountaineering adventures with the Colorado Mountain Club’s Year of the Mountaineer World Summit Series. In conjunction with CMC’s High Altitude Mountaineering Committee (HAMC) and Adventure Travel program, 2015 is the year to reach for a major summit and attain your mountaineering goals! We are planning itineraries for six of the Seven Summits - Mt. Kilimanjaro, Mt. Everest, Mt. Elbrus, Aconcagua, Kosciuszko, and Denali.
