DENVER GROUP MILEAGE REIMBURSEMENT GUIDELINES:

Ursack Bear Bags have been approved by the Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee (IGBC) and also the BPX Committee. They are best for those going farther off the beaten path, and the bear/human encounters are relatively rare.

Bear canisters provide good protection for your food. Some advantages are: you don't have to hang them and they are more convenient to use. Disadvantages include: can be damaged, bear ๆ can break them, and you need to keep the lid on.

The full text of this order is available on the CMC website. Violating this order can result in a fine of not more than $5,000 for individuals and $10,000 for businesses.

The full text of this order can be found here.

Currently there is much confusion about these orders, especially when it comes to Ursack Bear Bags and other bear-resistant gear. The Leadville Ranger District didn't know and said they would call back. She then spoke with the district supervisor and was told she should have called the BPX Committee first. It is very important to verify which guidelines are enforceable before making large purchases.

We have a small challenge in non-BPX members signing up for BPX trips, potentially displacing a dues-paying BPX member. The new CMC website does not check for BPX membership. Instead, the Committee is using a list of current members. We appreciate your patience. Remember when you renew your CMC membership to also renew your Backpacking Section membership. We are addressing this on a case by case basis. For 2024, we are hoping this will be resolved. With the migration from the old to new system, we're working through membership roster issues. We may contact you to confirm your membership or let you know it is time to renew if you wish to remain in BPX.

CMC connects Coloradans with more than 3,000 trips, hikes and activities annually.

CMC BACKCOUNTRY GUIDELINES

DENVER GROUP MILEAGE REIMBURSEMENT GUIDELINES:

Ursack Bear Bags have been approved by the Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee (IGBC) and also the BPX Committee. They are best for those going farther off the beaten path, and the bear/human encounters are relatively rare.

Bear canisters provide good protection for your food. Some advantages are: you don't have to hang them and they are more convenient to use. Disadvantages include: can be damaged, bear can break them, and you need to keep the lid on.

The full text of this order is available on the CMC website. Violating this order can result in a fine of not more than $5,000 for individuals and $10,000 for businesses.

The full text of this order can be found here.

Currently there is much confusion about these orders, especially when it comes to Ursack Bear Bags and other bear-resistant gear. The Leadville Ranger District didn't know and said they would call back. She then spoke with the district supervisor and was told she should have called the BPX Committee first. It is very important to verify which guidelines are enforceable before making large purchases.

We have a small challenge in non-BPX members signing up for BPX trips, potentially displacing a dues-paying BPX member. The new CMC website does not check for BPX membership. Instead, the Committee is using a list of current members. We appreciate your patience. Remember when you renew your CMC membership to also renew your Backpacking Section membership. We are addressing this on a case by case basis. For 2024, we are hoping this will be resolved. With the migration from the old to new system, we're working through membership roster issues. We may contact you to confirm your membership or let you know it is time to renew if you wish to remain in BPX.

CMC connects Coloradans with more than 3,000 trips, hikes and activities annually.