Presenting
Your Photos to Non-Photographers

For our meeting on September 12, members may submit one or two recent photos that you would like to share. Please send photos to Janice, bennettjanice@me.com by September 11.
I studied geology in school and have always been fascinated by mountains. Why are they there? How did they form? In graduate school, all the geology students would get together at the end of the summer and share photos from their travels and field work using 35mm Kodachrome slides. This fueled my interest in photography, travel, and mountains. In today’s digital world, the 35mm slide projector has become an antique. But digital slide shows and videos have replaced them. With a simple, free program like Microsoft Movie Maker, a slide video can include titles, captions, transitions, pan and zoom, and MUSIC, all integrated to make your images come to life and tell the story of your most recent photographic adventure.

I retired from the petroleum business in 2013 and moved to Colorado. I have been devoting more attention to my photography in the last couple of years, upgrading my camera and lenses, software editing workflow, and learning from others online and through CMC. I’ll share some of my videos (including my recent trek to Everest Base Camp), and tips on creating them, but I hope this will be a discussion and to learn from others in the club about how they display photos to family, friends and non-photographers.

“No Summit Too Small”

CMC is hosting a photo contest called "No Summit Too Small." This is an opportunity for members to submit photos of their great outdoor accomplishments.
Starts August 30 and runs through September 30.
Submissions will be narrowed down and then members and social media followers will vote on their favorite photos.

Winning photos and top photos will be featured in Trail and Timberline.
Prizes for the winner will include a one year's free
CMC membership, a swag pack and an Adidas jacket.
Celebrating Public Lands

There is a lot of excitement about our very first Photo Exhibition this fall at the AMC. Our theme is celebrating our public lands in Colorado.

All images will represent public lands in Colorado, including county, state, and federal properties, and will be of a natural subject. The exhibition will be titled “The CMC Photography Section celebrates access to the beauty, richness and value of our public lands for all Americans.”

With such an exhibition the Photo Section can play a larger role in supporting CMC's Conservation mission and can also gain greater visibility for our group and individual members. The exhibition runs from October 1 to February 1, 2019.

We will be celebrating the official opening of the exhibition with a party on October 10 in lieu of our regular meeting.

* Headlamps needed for safe night photography.
If you're going to be in Colorado at the end of September, I'd like to invite you to my home for the annual Fort Collins Studio Tour.

I'll be exhibiting my "Faroe Island" images but will also show many others.

Here are the details:

- Friday, September 28th, from 4-9 p.m.
- Saturday, September 29th, from 10-5 p.m.
- Sunday, September 30th, from 12-5 p.m.
- 4780 Totonka Trail, Laporte, CO (use Google Maps or you'll get lost!)
- Look for a log home with a blue roof
- If you get lost, my cell phone is 970-218-9649

I'll be giving away a free lithographic poster of Old Car Interior to everyone who attends (while supplies last).

It is safe to say that my studio is the furthest out, the hardest to find, but set in the most beautiful and serene environment.

If you love B&W, I hope you can make it!
